Panel Discussion on the Emerging 21st Century Architect

Sydney Covey

Sustainability Solutions Manager

Structr Advisors
Virginia Beach, VA

Our industry plays a critical role in climate change and sea level rise. We have to shape our perspective to begin to think about how the building impacts both the occupant and the environment.

Yiselle Santos

Director of Equity, Diversity, & Inclusion

HKS
Washington, D.C.

We are the ones that ignite the fire. When we show there's value in pursuing equity, diversity, and inclusion, we make sure that everyone is engaged in the conversation and accountable, there is no space for failure.

Edward Becker

Professor of Architecture

Virginia Tech
Blacksburg, VA

Faced with the pressing global challenges of rapid urbanization and human-induced climate change, We should focus on the development and implementation of low-carbon construction.

Pascale Sablan

Founder & Executive Director

Beyond the Built Environment
New York, NY

We need to address the inequitable disparities in architecture by providing a holistic platform aimed to support numerous stages of the architecture pipeline.
